CENTRACARE Health

CentraCare Health...

providing health and healing to Central Minnesota

CentraCare Health provides exceptional quality care with compassion. Headquartered in St. Cloud, we are the largest health care system in Central Minnesota.

CentraCare Health includes 7,800 employees and more than 400 physicians providing health care to approximately 680,000 people in 12 counties throughout Central Minnesota. Building on our vision to be the leader in Minnesota for quality, safety, service and value, we are committed to providing each of our locations with the unique service needs for their patients and their communities.

In the past fiscal year, 4,855 benefactors touched the lives of countless patients and their families with gifts totaling $8.85 million to the CentraCare Health Foundation. We are grateful to these generous benefactors who include people who live in the communities we serve, area physicians and CentraCare employees. Together, we continue to enhance quality of life for the people of Central Minnesota, ensuring that their medical care is second to none.

We are proud to serve the people of Central Minnesota and feel privileged to have the opportunity to partner with them on their journey to health and healing.

Community Benefit

Strengthening communities — enhancing lives

As a not-for-profit health care organization, CentraCare Health financially supports special projects to improve the health of the people living and working in the communities we serve. Our community benefit program strives to enhance the quality of life for the people of Central Minnesota through various health, wellness and education initiatives.

In June 2013, the CentraCare Health Foundation awarded a $450,000 grant to be disbursed over two years to continue the BLEND (Better Living: Exercise & Nutrition Daily) program. Started in 2006, BLEND was designed to improve the health of area children with a 10 percent reduction of childhood obesity by 2016.

“Obesity is one of the major problems facing the health of our nation,” said David Tilstra, MD, co-chair of the BLEND medical committee. “Childhood obesity is really a challenge for any one group to take on, but through the efforts of BLEND to bring the community together, it becomes a problem that can be tackled.”

Through a network of strategic alliances and collaborations at both the local and state levels, BLEND works to develop and support healthy, sustainable policies and initiatives that raise awareness of good health and build a culture of active living and healthy eating for kids and families. Schools, youth-serving organizations, the medical community and decision-makers partner with BLEND in creating sustainable, systemic changes in schools, communities, worksites and health care organizations. These changes make it easier to incorporate healthy behaviors into daily lives — making the healthy choice the easy choice. Learn more at blendcentralmn.org.

Packed with interactive, engaging and fun activities for all ages — kids and families moved from station to station at the 2013 BLEND Kids Health and Fitness Expo.

“I suffer minimal symptoms of stroke today because of the great medical treatment I received in Sauk Centre and the quick thinking of my girlfriends.”

What we know for sure

Early intervention is key to effectively treat stroke patients

Julie Stepan, 49, of Sauk Centre, learned how important it was to have high-quality health care close to home when her husband, Kenny, was diagnosed with Amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS) in 2003. “The care and compassion he received in Sauk Centre was outstanding,” she said. “They did everything possible to help him through his seven-year journey with ALS until he passed away in 2010.” Julie once again depended on that outstanding care when she suffered a stroke in April 2013.

“I was out for the night with my girlfriends and suddenly got a massive headache in the back of my head,” she said. “I could not move my right side. I told my girlfriends to just let me lie down and sleep; they insisted on taking me to the emergency room in Sauk Centre, which probably saved my life.”

After being seen by Mari Thomas, MD, at CentraCare Health – Sauk Centre, Julie underwent a computerized tomography (CT) scan which showed she was having a stroke. Dr. Thomas immediately administered Intravenous tPA (tissue plasminogen activator), a drug to break up the blood clot in Julie’s brain.

“The more time that elapses before a patient receives the drug to help break up the clot that is blocking a blood vessel in the brain, the slimmer the chances of a good outcome,” Dr. Thomas said. “Early treatment is key to effectively treat stroke and lower mortality for the majority of patients.”

tPA is the only drug proven to treat acute ischemic stroke patients but can only be given within four-and-a-half hours after the onset of a stroke — it has the greatest benefits when given earlier in that timeframe. Julie was given the drug one hour and 15 minutes after her stroke symptoms began.

Julie was then transported to the Intensive Care Unit at St. Cloud Hospital. After three nights, she returned home. “I was able to receive my physical and occupational therapy in Sauk Centre,” she said. “It was so nice because I knew the staff that worked there — they all were so personable and supportive. They really helped me on the road to recovery.”

Julie, a tax preparer at an accounting firm, has returned to work. She still suffers minor effects from her stroke but is hopeful that with time she will have a 100 percent recovery.

The St. Cloud Hospital Stroke Center provides essential stroke services to residents of Central Minnesota 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The Stroke Center has earned The Joint Commission’s Gold Seal of Approval™ for certification as a Primary Stroke Center after meeting nationally developed standards for stroke care. This achievement signifies that the hospital can meet the unique and specialized needs of stroke patients.

Almost 1,900 pounds of Halloween candy was donated by 452 kids at the Halloween Candy Buy-Back Event on Nov. 1, 2012, at Sartell Pediatrics. Sartell Pediatrics and Pediatrics Dentistry P.C., in partnership with BLEND, planned this event to reduce the amount of sugar children consume during a holiday surrounded by candy. The donated candy was sent to troops overseas.

"Together we built Clara's house, which is named in honor of my mother who spent her life loving and caring for children," said Mae Ellingson-Skalicky. "Many children are suffering with a mental illness. Of those, a great number self medicate to ease their pain. This can enable them to become addicted to alcohol, prescription, over-the-counter or illegal drugs sold on the street. I give so we can help more kids at Clara's House."
